Narrative

Incident Description During our transition (moving to a new location) many of our important documents and paperwork have been stolen. I entered that there was no forced entry because there were a few places of entry that could have been unlocked. Regardless, they still entered without permission outside of business hours and stole this paperwork. We can't seem to identify a motiv however considering the value of these documents (customer information, credit card information, bank statements, and more) we are concerned of whatever the theifs intentions may be.

At 9am on February First we noticed that all of our paperwork and company information was missing and had been stolen.
